

Sunday

Dear Cary -

I was just about to write you last week to tell you how happy I was at the news about the engagement when zip and its marriage in July. I am assuming now, without being at all sure, that this is the latest. Crowie and I are both delighted for both of you and especially so because it's you. There isn't anyone I would rather have as a new sister-in-law. God is the best man there is and I venture to say, odd though it may sound to you, that the longer you know him the better you'll like him.

We don't know any of the details of your plans. Peg has been keeping us in touch with such as she knows, but that isn't much. God, of course, has his hands full out there and anyhow an officious hand to write in one direction only.

Fannie and I were, as perhaps she has told you, charmed with your mother. It was too bad we could not see her for longer and I don't suppose we will now until the wedding. Please give her our love best. I was on her side immediately upon discovering that she is a member of the Boston-and-PLAIN-WATER-School. That to me is much more important and revealing than any other test.

It may interest you to know that I have a large tank full of nothing but water and blackberries. They are Kinder-raised and therefore superior in all aspects.

Please write us. We are very interested in all your
