

MRS. GORDON THOMAS KINDER

309 Raymond House, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Gordon my darling,

Good evening to you sir - it's shortly before this evening's (and the last) rehearsal, so I'm grabbing the moment to write to my favorite husband. What do you want for Christmas? Do you still want to give me that guard ring from my emerald bracelet or have you something better in your mind? How much money should I spend on Xmas presents for your mother, father,

Peggy, Uncle, Giggy, Charlotte, George, Jane, and John? Wow! I've always had a very difficult time getting good presents for people, and suddenly to have mine added to my list--- It would be fun to sleep together - remember, we did last Christmas for you mother's & father's presents.
Do you have any ideas for any presents. As for giving something to any one in Our Armed Forces (i.e. John & you) - I've always thought that one of the greatest of problems. Soooo I'd better buckle down and think hard.
I love you darling. You sound as if you were having a good time in the desert in spite of hard work and cold showers. I want to know where you'd get the ice you'd be fined $50 for having, anyway. I had to look up sump in the dictionary - you've added a new, and very useful word to my vocabulary.

At that point people started coming in and there was a steady stream until rehearsal time. We got to the above & discovered that Heinlein had late permission for us all, so she dragged us through it several dozen times until we were all collapsing on our feet - then said "just once more". So we did it four more times, and here I am back in 309 completely pooled. If only I could get some of those 9 hours of sleep you keep talking about.

Tomorrow is another day, so I must get a quick wink of beauty sleep - performance tomorrow you know.

You also know that I love you.
I laughed hard & long tonight at some skeptical by-play Floradora was doing backstage. Did you hear me? I thought of you. Love, I miss you - it's a lucky thing for my College Career that you're on maneuvers. I shall roll over and kiss you in the middle of the night tonight. Please be there.

Forever & ever yours darling -

Cary
